

EDITORS' SPEAK

Reader's Special

The Reader is King

Ever so often we get inundated with submissions that don't fit the brief of 'topic specific issues', yet compel us to incorporate into our periodical. This is one such issue.

The field of Otorhinolaryngology is ever expanding, that is evident by the range of articles that we keep receiving. This issue is one such example.

And while we strive to churn out topic dedicated issues, we shall continue to dedicate issues time and again to the very reason that we are – our readers.
